Reinforced Coupler

The Compact Wheel Loader Sno Pusher features a reinforced universal coupler. This coupler differs from a skidsteer coupler in that it is designed specifically for use on larger machines. Featuring heavier duty materials and additional bracing this coupler can withstand the "wear and tear" of significant winter use.

Robust Chassis

Pro-Tech is known for building durable products and the Compact Wheel Loader Sno Pusher is no different. The unique chassis is designed using 6" and 12" structural steel channels that stabilize the unit and allow for confident pushing and stacking of snow.

20 Year History

The Compact Wheel Loader Sno Pusher is designed based on Pro-Tech's Rubber Edge Sno Pusher product line, which has been the most popular containment plow in the industry for over 20 years. This Sno Pusher uses a high quality 1.5" x 10" adjustable rubber cutting edge, which can clear a variety of snow types. The Sno Pusher also features pyramid gussets, which provide additional reinforcement of the sideplates and eliminates the packed snow that often occurs with plows that run bars from their chassis to sideplates.
